THE SULTAN'S WAR OFFICE
AND THE PROBABLE MINISTER OF WAR, MAHMUD SCHEFER
PASCHA.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Constantinople, May 3.—All the ring leaders of the troops who started the recent rebellion are being quickly tried by court martial and executed. Hanging in public is an example to the rest is the method thus far followed out.

Many Civilians.
The young Turk officials do not stop with the soldiers themselves, but even try civilians who are found guilty of inciting rebellion and hang them with the soldiers. The trials are short and the evidence is all brought forward in order and sentence passed.

Thirteen Executed.
This morning thirteen civilians and officers and men, including the famous Major Yousuf, were hanged after having been sentenced by the military court. Five were hanged in front of the parliament building, five in front of the entrance to the minister of war, and three at the Galata bridge.

Find Evidence.
In the search of the palace ground and buildings for the hidden treasure of the late sultan, Abdul Hamid, much evidence has been found that will be used in the court martial trial which will probably precede the execution of the former sultan within a short time.

Planned Murder.
It is now certain that the mutiny of April 13 was all prepared in the palace itself with the sanction of the sultan and his closest advisers. The uprising against the Christians in the Adana district was among the atrocities arranged for and carried out.

Kill Foreigners.
April 24th was the date for the murder of all foreigners in Constantinople, the signal being the firing of a bomb in the palace grounds, but this was averted by the rapid approach of the young Turk army, who occupied the city and palace ahead of the time expected.

Kill Diplomats.
This wholesale slaughter which was planned, would have included the murder of all foreign diplomats and other Christians in the city of Constantinople. Abdul Hamid, it is said, now has sanctioned the plans if not actually ordered their preparation.

Will Be Tried.
It is certain that Abdul Hamid will be tried on specific charges brought by the young Turks and will doubtless be executed if found guilty, of which there is now apparently but little doubt. At present he is closely guarded by soldiers.

Much Hated.
The inhabitants of Salonika show much hatred for their late ruler and several times the soldiers on guard have been forced to use violence to disperse the crowds that have gathered about the prison palace of Hamid seeking vengeance.

Killed Favorites.
It is also reported that Hamid's last act before being captured by the soldiers in the palace was to shoot and instantly kill one of his favorite women who had displeased him, using the weapon himself. This fact has been heralded throughout the empire.

To Send Troops.
The young Turk officials announce that they will send troops into the districts where the anti-Christian riots have occurred and will do all in their power to stop the horrible butchery which was ordered by the late sultan's favorites.

the law and it is difficult to reach them under the present system for taxation purposes.

The investigation in support of the advance system of taxing telephones not only shows that thirty-eight companies pay no tax at all, but that one company pays a tax of only two cents (5 the state); two companies pay four cents; four companies pay five cents; three companies pay seven cents and fifty-four companies pay over seven cents and less than one dollar.

The measure is introduced in the assembly yesterday came back in the assembly for revision and was sent to the committee on taxation. It is believed that there will be some important hearings upon this measure which will be notified in a few days and that many of the smaller telephone companies will oppose such a law.

SUPREME COURT HAS REVISED DECISION

Ruling of Lower Court in Commodities Case Is Remanded by Highest Federal Tribunal.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, May 3.—That the "commodities clause" in the Interstate Commerce Act of 1906, known as the Hepburn railroad rate law, is constitutional was today, in effect, declared by the supreme court of the United States.

The decision was announced by Justice White, and the court covered and remanded the decision to the United States circuit court, but the only directions were to enforce and apply the statute as it is now construed.

Briefly summarized, the decision of the supreme court in commodities clause cases, holds the law to be constitutional, but it does not concede the contention of the government as to its scope.

Special exception has been made as to the ownership of stock in held-out corporations, which, it was held, did not constitute such ownership as would prohibit the transportation under the terms of the law.

It was also held that the ownership of the commodity applied to the transportation, if, before transportation, the railroad company has in good faith parted with the commodity, it may carry it.

The principal point of the decision was in relation to the holding of stock in subordinate companies, and on that important point the finding is favorable to the roads.

Justice Harlan dissented on the stock feature, but otherwise the decision was unanimous.

THE MEMORIAL OF WHITEHEAD KILLED

Petition to Congress Not to Pass Inheritance Tax Law Is Turned Down by Assembly.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., May 3.—The assembly killed the Whitehead memorial to congress asking that body not to pass a federal inheritance tax law.

The assembly also killed the Berner bill, which would make all local public utility franchises indeterminate periods, thereby making the franchisees perpetual, and give protection against the holding of rival plants and giving municipalities an option of purchase.

The senate acted upon 74 bills, resolutions and memorials in an hour with only eight senators present, all the business being done under unanimous consent in the absence of a quorum. The senate memorial to congress to investigate the speculation in stocks and grain futures was concurred in by the senate.

HARRIMAN SUIT HEARING RESUMED

Scene of Government's Legal Battle to Dissolve Railroad Merger Is Shifted to Portland.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Portland, Ore., May 3.—Having concluded the taking of evidence in Salt Lake City, the scene of the legal battle that is being waged by the government to dissolve the merger of the Harriman railroads was shifted today to Portland, where the hearings were resumed in the federal court before Special Referee Sylvester C. Williams.

The witnesses subpoenaed for examination include officials of the Harriman railroad and steamship lines in the west and northern and leading manufacturers, jobbers and others who have had dealings with the Harriman companies.

It is believed that the taking of evidence in the government suit probably will conclude with the hearings in this city. Since the beginning of the suit, which was commenced in Utah in January, 1908, evidence has been taken in New York, Washington, Cincinnati, Salt Lake City and several other places, the purpose being to show that the ultimate object of the Harriman merger was the destruction of competition and the restriction of trade.

The government's object in bringing the suit is not only to compel the Harriman interests to relinquish the control of the Union Pacific, which avoids competition between the Great Northern and the Union Pacific, but to compel a similar giving up of control of every Harriman line running parallel to any other line of the same ownership, by which ownership trade and commerce is restricted and competition destroyed.

Several steamship lines operated by the Great Northern and the Union Pacific are named as reasons why these roads should no longer be allowed to remain in non-competitive proximity. The supposed fierce competition between the Santa Fe and the Union Pacific between Kansas City and Denver is called a farce, as these roads only seemingly are in a bitter fight for the supremacy of trade and in reality are working quietly and secretly for extremely profitable freight rates, while allowing cuts in passenger fares.

The railroads and other defendants named in the bill of complaint filed by the government are as follows: Oregon Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Oregon Railroad and Navigation company, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Farmers' Loan and Trust company, Edward H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff, Otto H. Kahn, James Stillman, Henry H. Rogers, Henry C. Frick and William A. Clark.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW BEING AGITATED

Milwaukee Barbers Are Working for Bill Which Prohibits Shaving or Hair-Cutting on Sunday.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., May 3.—Barbers of Milwaukee and elsewhere went before the assembly judiciary committee Saturday afternoon and made arguments for the Morris bill which, if passed, would operate against the use of the razor and scissors in barber shops on the Sabbath day. The Morris bill has passed the senate and now is up to the assembly. It holds that shaving and hair-cutting shall not be deemed "works of necessity or charity" and is designed to overcome the legal weakness of the present law under which several prosecutions have failed. Owners of the hotel barber shops in Milwaukee spoke for the bill and answered volleys of questions from Chairman L. W. Leavitt and other members of the committee. Only one person spoke against the measure, Rev. Mr. Greenbaum of the Seventh Day Adventists, cautioned the committee against attempting to legislate on a question so closely allied to religion. He cited the 13th chapter of the book of Revelations and said this work clearly defined the question. The question was one between God and man, he said, and not between the state and its citizens. President Whitaker of the state barbers' board spoke to the members in support of the bill. He said that at present two-thirds of the shops in Wisconsin were closed on Sunday but that no progress could be made in Milwaukee because of the "greed of a few." So long as a few shops remain open, he said, all must follow the example or lose their business.

CLINTON ITEMS OF PERSONAL INTEREST

How the Sick Ones Are Getting Along—Pythians' Home Talent Play Was Great Success.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Clinton, May 3.—Mrs. H. A. Rogers is afflicted with grippe. Mrs. Ray Chamberlain did not gain as her family thought she should and they took her to Beloit Friday to consult Dr. Helm.

Samuel Polz of Kingston, Ill., is now employed by H. F. Dallman of Clinton. Will Bruce and wife expect to leave for Lauderdale lake first of the week for the summer.

"The Event of the Season," as the play, "Damon and Pythias," was billed, as played by local talent at Amos' opera-house last Friday night, certainly proved to be the event of the season in several ways. Few, if any, might have had lying dormant in our midst so much real talent and natural grace as was displayed by the several actors and actresses who took part. Each and every one acquitted themselves in a manner that brought forth the heartiest applause by all who were fortunate enough to be able to gain admittance to the opera-house. Two much credit cannot be given to A. A. Cleveland for the work he gave to the enterprise. He drilled and staged the affair and was untiring in his efforts to make it the success it proved to be, and his acting was simply a revelation beyond anything to be expected from a person with no experience. The music by the new Clinton orchestra was very fine indeed. That we have with us an orchestra of such artistic ability capable of playing such high-grade music is a distinct pleasure to all.

Wallace H. Cheesman, bookkeeper at the Citizens' bank, went to Sharon Tuesday to consult Dr. Treat about his eyes, which have been giving him a great amount of trouble lately.

Wm. Bressler, who lives three miles north of town, had a runaway while in town Saturday. He was driving a cult in an open top buggy. The horse took fright and turned suddenly throwing Mr. Bressler out. In the mud. The depth of the latter article in our streets was no doubt the reason for him not being injured quite severely.

Mrs. P. Barrett and son-in-law, Mr. Cleveland, were in town Saturday. Report reached here Saturday that a severe wind and sand storm had struck that part of Texas where Mr. A. Mayhew and son, formerly of this place, were located, and had completely ruined his corn crop. Of course he told you he was very much in evidence when the news was discussed.

We were mistaken in our statement in our last items that the A. K. Q. K. T. club would have an after-dinner supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Harris last Friday evening, as some of the invitations were withdrawn. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Herron, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Harris.

J. C. Howarth had charge of the German stude during the absence of the latter to his old home, Grafton, for a few days.

Hold, Merkle is home for a few days visiting his father and sister.

J. B. Boyles of Beloit, the cement contractor, met with the town board here Saturday and secured a contract from that body for six cement culverts and one cement bridge 18 feet long. Mrs. Joel Barthorn is putting in new bathroom fixtures, cess pool, etc., at her home on Church street.

Miss White had a friend, Miss Stenhouse of Burlington, as an over-Sunday guest.

Mrs. H. N. Cronkite went to Freeport, Ill., Saturday to spend a week visiting relatives and friends.

PROMOTERS OF WORLD'S PEACE

GATHERED AT ORCHESTRA HALL IN CHICAGO.

FOR A NATIONAL CONGRESS

Various Phases of the Problem Will Be Discussed by David Starr Jordan and Other Notables.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago, May 3.—The Second National Peace Congress, a gathering of peace advocates from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries as well, had its formal opening in Orchestra Hall this afternoon, with Robert Treat Paine presiding. More than a thousand delegates are now in the city prepared to take part in the various meetings which will continue for three days.

The gathering is the largest and most representative of its kind that has been held in Chicago since the universal peace congress was held here in connection with the Columbian exposition in 1893. Included in the attendance are farmers and college presidents, financiers and workmen, suffragists and anti-suffragists, statesmen and businessmen. Among the foreign diplomats taking part are Count Johann Heideck von Bernstorff, German ambassador; F. L. de la Barra, Mexican ambassador, and Herman de Legererantz, minister from Sweden.

The program of the congress provides for the discussion of international peace in all its phases. At the initial session this afternoon the general existing status of the peace movement was the topic of consideration. This evening the subject will be "The Drawing Together of the Nations." Rabbi Hirsch will preside, and among the speakers will be President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford Jr. university.

Tomorrow morning there will be a commerce and industry session, with Richard C. Hall presiding. The businessmen's point of view on the movement for international peace will be put before the meeting. Another session will be held at the same time at the Chicago Woman's club to discuss the general topic of "Women and Peace." Mrs. Philip N. Moore, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is scheduled as one of the speakers.

Tomorrow afternoon the session will be devoted to the discussion of legal aspects of the peace movement. William J. Calhoun presiding. At Mandel Hall, University of Chicago, there will be a special session for university students and colleges. In the evening the general subject will be "Steps in Generalizing." There will also be an evening session for universities and colleges.

On Wednesday, the concluding day of the meeting, the committee on resolutions will report, and their report is likely to be one of the most interesting features of the entire congress. Wednesday morning there is also to be a conference of peace workers, with numerous ten-minute demonstrations. That afternoon there will also be a special school session for the school children of Chicago. The finale of the congress will be reached Wednesday night, when a banquet is to be given at the Auditorium by the Chicago Association of Commerce to the delegates.

MURDER TRIAL HAS BEGUN IN GLASGOW

Prosecution of Oscar Slater, Alias Otto Sands, Began in the High Court Today.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Glasgow, May 3.—Vint promises to be one of the most noted criminal trials that has taken place here in years was begun in the High court today, when Oscar Slater, alias Otto Sands, was placed on trial for the alleged murder of Marion Gilchrist last January. The victim of the murder was a maiden lady of some means and robbery is supposed to have furnished the motive for the killing. She was found dead in her home and the evidence indicated that she had been beaten to death. A folder in her home, which disappeared immediately after the murder, was sought by the police. Circumstances were so broad over the world, with the result that a man giving his name as Sands was arrested by the New York police in February as he landed from a Liverpool steamship. His appearance tallied with the description sent by the Glasgow police and he was held, together with a young woman with whom he had traveled to America. Witnesses were sent from Glasgow to New York and they identified Sands as the man who formerly lodged at the house of the murdered woman. Since he was turned to Glasgow the man is said to have admitted his identity, though denying all knowledge of the murder.

TO OPEN BIDS FOR 1909 SEWER WORK

Street Assessment Committee Will Also Receive Proposals for Cherry Street Curbing.

The street assessment committee of the common council will meet at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon to receive proposals for the sewer construction work during the ensuing year. About three-quarters of a mile of piping, 2,920 feet to be exact, is to be laid in Districts 10, 11, and 14. The streets where the work will be done are: Fourth Avenue, Prairie and Fifth Avenue, Glen, Walker, Yuba, and Division streets.

James Bennett has been appointed temporarily as sewer inspector in District 14 (Shelby street) to succeed C. K. Millmore, who began his work as assessor today. It is probable that the committee will make the appointment permanent.

"WOMAN" SUBJECT OF THE DISCUSSION

Much Interest in Annual Banquet of Social Union Club—"Women" Will Be Discussed.

Members of the Social Union club are looking forward with interest to the annual ladies' night banquet at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. It will be remembered that the subject of last year's banquet was "Man," and that Miss Elizabeth Stoddard, as toastmaster, and a corps of lady assistants as speakers, made "man" appear the object of ridicule and derision. This year the subject will be "Woman." It is understood that the men will now return compliments to the ladies, and if present plans fall not "woman" will be presented in her true light. The committee of arrangements has secured as speakers experts upon this subject who will give to those present the results of years of study and experience, and men who will speak their thoughts regardless of the fear or favor of any woman.

SHEPHERD STATUE UNVEILED TODAY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., May 3.—A statue of Alexander B. Shepherd, second governor of the territorial government of the District of Columbia, was unveiled this afternoon in front of the district building. Henry B. McFarland, chairman of the District Board of Commissioners, delivered the principal address and Bishop Harding offered the benediction. The Marine band furnished the musical part of the program.

The city of Washington's tribute to the memory of Governor Shepherd is in striking contrast to the exonerations that were heaped upon him during the period that he governed the city's affairs. When President Grant appointed Mr. Shepherd governor of the District of Columbia Washington was a city of swamps and mud banks. Governor Shepherd immediately began improvements of all kinds. Streets were torn up, unsightly buildings removed, splendid public buildings erected, a complete system of sewerage was introduced and miles of streets were paved.

The citizens were during all this time raising indignant protests against the lavish expenditure of money. They accused Shepherd of corrupt methods. The tax rate was going up and the citizens of Washington were denouncing Shepherd as a second "Boss" Tweed. When he was finally deposed, in 1874, he had spent $10,000,000 and left the city of Washington $27,000,000 in debt. But time proved the wisdom of his work and later he was given credit for making Washington one of the most beautiful cities in the world. In doing this, however, Mr. Shepherd had neglected his own private affairs and soon after he was ousted from office he failed for over a million dollars. He left Washington and went to Mexico, where he accumulated another large fortune before his death in 1902.

MISTAKEN PHILANTHROPY.

There is now pending in the legislature a bill which provides for an annual appropriation of $200 per capita, for the education of blind children in the public schools of the state. The object is to establish a department similar to the deaf and dumb schools, and have it supported at state expense.

This measure is likely to pass because of sympathy for the blind and because Milwaukee wants the appropriation to aid in supporting the only school of this kind in the state.

The statement will be unpopular, but it is nevertheless true that day schools for other blind or deaf are a mistake because they deprive these defective classes of the practical education which they need during the formative years of life.

What the deaf child needs to make him self supporting, is an educated hand. It matters not how much time may be spent in teaching him to talk or to understand, the lip language, he will never be a talker, and at best a very inefficient listener.

When the fact finally dawns upon the parent or guardian, that this system of education is impractical and incomplete the boy or girl is hurried off to the state school to be taught a trade, but the age is passed where knowledge is readily acquired, and the inclination to work has been lost in an ambition to enter other channels, which are barred to them.

They should have been in the state school from childhood, where every facility is afforded for development of both mind and body, and where the oral language can be acquired if necessary.

The blind are more dependant, and there is but little the day school can offer that will aid them in becoming self supporting. The state school is better equipped for literary training than the day school can possibly be, because it has special teachers for every department from the kindergarten to the high school, and beyond this it offers every facility possible for the education of the hand.

The deaf and the blind belong in the state schools, and the attempt to educate them in the public schools is not only a mistake, but also an injustice to this class of children.

The trouble with the whole system is gross ignorance and lack of information. It is a rare thing for the state to have a governor who possesses any knowledge of either the state schools for deaf or blind, and yet he possesses authority to appoint a board of control whose authority is absolute. This board is always political and usually composed of men who feel that the state has discharged all obligations where the blind and deaf are housed and fed the same as the stock in the barn.

The people are more ignorant than the state officials. They simply feel that the defective classes are entitled to sympathy and are ready to appropriate money for them with generous hand. That is why the day school proposition meets with favor. Better by far to increase the efficiency of the state schools by intelligent supervision, than add to the machinery.

THE ECONOMIC ARGUMENT.

"Another year of defeat for the American Saloon," is the title of an article contributed to the American Review of Reviews for May, by Ferdinand Cowie Idehart. It is an argument presenting the economic side of the question, and appeals to the judgment rather than to sentiment.

Men are discovering that the man who drinks is so badly handicapped, that his chances for employment, to say nothing of success, are practically nil. Mr. Idehart has this to say in part, on the situation:

"More and more the economic argument is influencing voters to abolish the saloon. The man who frequents the saloon is not so strong in body nor intellectually so keen, nor professionally or industrially so efficient as the man who does not. A man who has no scruples on the subject, but has good common sense, soon discovers that he is handicapped in the heated competition of life when he becomes a patron of the saloon."

"The New York Central, the Lackawanna, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Wabash, the Rock Island, the Great Northern, and other railroad systems have adopted the following rule: 'The use of intoxicants by employees, while on duty, is prohibited. Their habitual use, or the frequenting of places where they are sold, is sufficient cause for dismissal.' The Michigan State law will not permit a man who is not a total abstainer to have anything to do with the running of trains. The premium on temperance in railroad circles is so great that 25,000 employees of the Northwestern Railroad signed a pledge of total abstinence at one time."

"Business houses generally disclaim any attitude against the drinker in the employment of men. The United States Commissioner of Labor sent a note of enquiry to 7000 concerns employing labor; 5363 of them responded that they took the drink question very much into account in hiring men, and that they had to be more careful in selecting responsible help because the law held them liable for injuries caused by accident. The young man of ambition and hope who wants to get into a good place and succeed in it knows full well that he must stay away from the saloon. This business argument sends hundreds of thousands of employees into the ranks of those who are fighting the traffic."

"The writer also gives the following interesting statistics on the American drink bill last year, which represents but a fraction of the expense, to say nothing of the misery entailed. 'The people paid last year a billion dollars for intoxicating drink, $108,000,000 more than for all the necessities of life, and it is a protest against this colossal material waste and a desire to divert some of the drink money to better uses that has prompted many to vote no license in the campaigns. The billion dollars paid over the counter for drink for the year is only about a half of the material damage the traffic causes, requiring institutions to be maintained by the public."

"The large amounts of money paid into the treasuries of States and municipalities by the State-dealers are no compensation for the material as well as the moral waste in the community, and while there are many friends of law and order who vote for license because they think the saloon ought to be made to pay a part of the price of its public injury, the people are getting to believe more and more each year that the damage of the saloon is too great, and they are unwilling to tolerate it and are voting 'no' on the proposition to permit it."

One cause of the treasury shortage is found in the fact that the government has advanced freely for Panama canal work. A bill is now pending in the senate to refund this money by a canal bond issue of $60,000,000. This would reimburse the treasury and place the indebtedness where it belongs. A number of bond issues will be necessary before the canal is completed.

Three hundred thousand freight cars are still idle, representing a cost of $200,000,000 to say nothing of the loss by depreciation. Business is still a long way from normal. If congress and all state legislatures would adjourn for two years, and give the country a rest, it would be better for all concerned."

By WALT MASON

(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

One man goes South, to find the Pole, and then returns, and writes a scroll, which, published in the magazines, will stock him.

One man goes North, the Pole to find; the journey is a benighted grind, and he comes back with frozen feet, and whiskers full of snow and sleet, and writes flapdoodle for the press, and draws a nice fat check, I guess. 'Of stories of the Arctic waste I've read so much that I can trade the polar bear and Eskimo, and winnow grease and uncooked snow, and though I'm tired, I'm glad, at least, that there is no Pole in the East; and gladder still, be it confessed, that there is no Pole in the West."

Characteristics of Servians.

Servians in their good nature and love of humor are said to remind travelers of the Irish peasantry. They are hospitable to strangers; their patriotism is vehement, almost guttural, and they take great interest in politics. Many of the domestics in the towns and cities come from abroad, as the Servian girl is too independent for domestic service.

WHICH ROAD?

Along the line of life are many junction points, and two roads lead out from each junction—the right road and the wrong road.

From the folder of the right road you may learn that—
The road is single track and in some places narrow gauge. It is mostly up grade, several feet to the mile. There are sharp curves that go around big rocks and along deep declines. But—
On account of the altitude the air is fine, and when you get up the scenery is unsurpassed. And it is SAFE.

The features of the wrong road are—
The roadbed is well ballasted, the floor is double tracked all the way, and the equipment is luxurious. It is easy riding—no steep up grades. It is down hill from junction to terminal. But—
While the coaches are sumptuous and for a few stations the scenery is fascinating, by and by the train runs through desert places and gloomy canyons.

If you should find yourself a passenger on this route, look out for the semaphores whereon is written the red warning:

THOU SHALT NOT.

There are many trains on this route. There is the DISHONESTY train. On this train you are likely to run into a blind switch almost any time or crash head-on into the fast limited. The crew is careless and pays little attention to semaphores or block signals.

And there is the DISSIPATION train. On this line train orders are apt to be neglected. The engineer takes chances and runs wild. He keeps a full head of steam on, and the air brakes are likely to get out of repair.

Another train on the Wrong road is the SPECULATION train. Its schedule time is that of the lightning express. And when the red light shows it is often too late to stop. Wrecking crews work day and night in clearing the tracks, and the repair shops are always busy.

Another is the AFFINITY train. It starts at a station called FLIRTATION and is a very crooked line. It is the short line to the Divorce Court terminal.

So, you see, my friendly fellow traveler and traveler to the bar, it makes a lot of difference which route you choose.

It is not a question of roadbed or equipment. It is a question of TEMPERANCE.

Which train are you on?

Wisdom in Old Adages.

"Strike when the iron is hot" and keep it hot by striking. "Take time while time is, for time will away," the English say. The Spanish proverb has it: "When the fool has made up his mind the market has gone by." The old Latin said: "Opportunity has hair in front, behind she is bald; if you seize her by the forelock, you may hold her; but if suffered to escape, not Jupiter himself can catch her again."

A man more absolutely governed by pure reason than Lord Mearns could not well be found, but in his diary he refers to an after-dinner talk about the feeling which Johnson had of thinking one's self bound to touch a particular rail or post and to tread in the middle of a paving stone, and he adds: "I certainly have this very strongly."

CENTRAL DELIVERY PLAN FOR GROCERS

Has Been Discussed For Many Months And Will Probably Be Carried Into Execution Here.

That Janesville retail grocers will, in the near future, carry out the plan of organizing a central delivery service which has been discussed for many months past, now seems probable. Various phases of the proposition were considered at the meeting of the association last week, among them Charles Schwartz' estimate that five large teams and two small ones, with double-deck wagons, could handle all the deliveries now made by five times as many outfits. It developed, for instance, that ten grocers in this city are now using twenty-five rigs and horses and employing as many drivers to take care of their business. There are at least twenty series of merchandise from a yeast cake to a bushel of potatoes and their size make a half a dozen or more trips a day. Wagons from as many as ten different firms may at times be seen together on a single street. Obviously, this constitutes a big economic waste of horsepower and other energy. The present plan is to organize a corporation which shall pay no dividends; route the city; and send the wagons out from the central station at four or five stated times each day. Consumers will, of course, have to be "educated" to the new system. They will be given a clearly understood list of the hours when the start and when the orders must be in before the stated hours if they are to be delivered. The corporation will collect from each grocer for its services on a pro-rata basis, keeping strict account of each parcel delivered and charging it to the sender.

John Phlefer Met With Bad Accident In Trying to Board a Moving Train Here Saturday Night.

In attempting to board the St. Paul train running from here to Milwaukee about midnight, Saturday, John Phlefer, a Milton blacksmith, slipped and one foot went under the wheels. The large toe of one of the small ones was so badly crushed that Dr. G. C. Wauson, who put on a temporary dressing at the police station, found it necessary to amputate them at the hospital.

JANESVILLE CANINE WON THE BIG FIGHT

"Bull Dog" Joe's Fighting Dog Jack Defeated St. Louis' Pride Bob In Hot Contest.

Joe Knuth, who has been training bull dogs in and about Janesville for two years past, has wired back that on Saturday night at East St. Louis his prize fighting dog Jack won a bloody contest from the pride of St. Louis sporting contingent, Bob, in a fight which lasted one hour and twenty-five minutes. Unfortunately Jack died from injuries sustained four hours after the fight but his owner is richer by a thousand dollar purse than he was before the fight came off. Knuth has several other dogs which are matched for other contests in the near future.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Runaway Horse: Starting from the vicinity of T. H. Conigan's business shop on the Corn Exchange square, Saturday afternoon, a horse owned by Al. Hill dashed through the city hall alley, getting rid of the road wagon it was drawing, on the way, and was not captured until it had covered a good stretch on North Jackson street.

William Mosher Fined: William Mosher pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this morning and paid a fine and costs of $3.10. The police say that "Dutch" was stuck up with a quart or two of whiskey in the tank Saturday night and so got yesterday to show the people that though the saloons might be closed, hilarious happiness could not be denied him.

Shoppers Boy in Court: Fifteen-year-old Elmer Black of Shoppers appeared in municipal court late Saturday afternoon to answer charges of incorrigibility. His parents wished to have him committed to a reform school but there were witnesses on hand to testify that he was not as bad a boy as some tried to make out. The court decided to hold the matter open and give him another chance.

Assessors Ogan Work: At the city hall this morning the assessors of the five wards conferred with Supervisor of Assessments Frank P. Starr and began their attention for the month. The wards are represented in the order as follows: David Conner, Bert Gage, Frank L. Smith, C. K. Milwaukee, and James Thayer. Belonging to the jail: Joseph Conley and Carl Johnson were brought to the county jail from Beloit today to serve ten day terms for drunkenness. Elks' Meeting: On Tuesday evening at six o'clock the Janesville Lodge of Elks will hold a club supper, followed by regular lodge meeting and initiation of three candidates. Second Monthly Test: The second monthly test of the Abnoma fire engine was held this morning. The trial was held in the Thoroughbred company's box factory, the stream of water being thrown into the river. Two loads of hose with one and one-half size nozzle were used. The test was entirely satisfactory.

FRANK KLASKA HUNG HIMSELF IN CELLAR

Chatham Street Resident Took His Life While Wife Was Visiting With Neighbors on Saturday.

While his wife was visiting with neighbors Saturday afternoon, Frank Klaska took a piece of small rope similar to that used in tying up tobacco bundles and hung himself in the basement of his home, which is located on an alley near the intersection of Holmes and Chatham streets. The rope which strangled him was attached to a spike projecting from one of the beams in the dark corner of the cellar and the dark body was found in a sitting posture on a small box which had been placed there. It was nearly half past four o'clock when the wife, after a long search, made the terrible discovery.

Chief Appleby and Officer Fanning responded to the summons and District Attorney J. L. Fisher and Dr. George Pilsch were also called to the scene. The physician found on examination that life was extinct and that all efforts at resuscitation would be useless.

The deceased was a native of Bohemia and had a foot cut off by the cars near the Gold street crossing about three years ago. He was one of a gang of laborers riding on the train and jumping for some reason, before it came to a stop, fell under the wheels. Subsequently he obtained several hundred dollars' damages from the C. & M. & St. P. Railway company at the conclusion of a lawsuit. The same day he was injured, a brother was taken to the asylum at Mendota.

That the loss of the limb preyed upon and finally unbalanced the man's mind is the conviction of Richard Barry and others who live in that vicinity. He was fifty-two years of age and besides the wife, several children are left to mourn his loss. Undertaker Ryan took charge of the remains.

MAIL CARRIERS ARE SEEKING GOOD ROADS

Improved Road Means Better Mail Service For Residents of Farming Districts.

There is perhaps no more consistent class of boosters for good roads than are the rural mail carriers and officials of the postoffice department. There are many routes going out of Janesville and other postoffices throughout the county and the improvement in the country roads during the past two years is a source of gratification to the postmen. Some carriers report that early this spring many farmers made use of the split log road with great success and roads which were formerly bogs in wet weather have been fully respectable despite the heavy rains. Other spots are reported as well nigh impassable and need immediate attention.

The rural free delivery has been extended throughout the state as rapidly as possible and will be continued as fast as the roads are put in such condition that they can be traveled. The last meeting of the county board showed that the work of road building along systematic lines is to be continued this spring and summer by visiting towns who see the benefit of the improvement.

Good roads are essential in every community and Rock county has taken on a decided stride forward in the construction of many miles of fine roads that are far superior to the old haphazard method of throwing dirt in a heap and letting the teams grind it down to the proper roadway.

TOWN OF CLINTON ROADS STAND MOST SEVERE TESTS

New Highway Built Last Season Stood Recent Rainy Season in Real Roman Style.

"Our new 'lake shore' road which was built last season is going to stand the racket even better than the model highway built by the government," said Supervisor S. S. Jones of the town of Clinton who was a visitor at the court house this afternoon. "It was built of better material and even though laid in a slough which the government refused to build, it went through the winter and this recent rainy season we have had without a fissure or washout. You can't find a better road in the city of Janesville. We have to haul even our bank gravel three miles and our platform has been to build for keeps rather than to see how much distance we can cover, but the people are glad to support us in the work now that they can see how it works out." An article from Mr. Jones' pen was recently published in the "Good Roads" magazine and he has received a number of letters from readers in Iowa and elsewhere asking for further elaboration of some of the points he brought out.

BETTER THAN TO BE A CARNEGIE HERO.
MRS. WM. M. REES' REWARD AFTER MANY YEARS FOR HER HEROIC EFFORT IN SAVING THE LIFE OF A YOUNG ITALIAN.

Chicago.—Mrs. Wm. Rees, a well-known society matron and housewife of Lake Bluff, has just heard of her good fortune, which comes as a reward for her heroic effort many years ago. Her reward is in form of a legacy from an Italian nobleman of his Sicilian home, valued at $15,000. He left all he had.

Nothing so far has reached her but a letter from Sotero Todoliska, an uncle of the decedent, telling her that his nephew left her all his property because she saved his life in Chicago many years ago.

She anxiously awaits official confirmation of the news, and has been informed by the uncle that the legal documents are on the way.

Until they arrive Mrs. Rees will be ready to believe that she is dreaming. An estate in beautiful Sicily is to fall to her, as though it fell from the sky, in return for a brave act and self-sacrifice forgotten long ago.

"I had completely forgotten the incident until I received news that I had inherited this estate," said Mrs. Rees today. "It happened a number of years ago on West Randolph street.

"A runaway horse was about to run down two young men when I succeeded in stopping him. I have been used to horses all my life, and it was really nothing to do, but the young men thanked me profusely and declared that I had saved their lives. One of them, an Italian, who spoke only broken English, told me his name, Domenico Todoliska, and expressed thanks.

"Some day I shall reward you, he told me. I thought nothing of it, except that he seemed rather extravagant in his promises, for he was evidently a poor youth. It was not till years later that I learned he was the son of rich parents, tramping around the world for the fun of it.

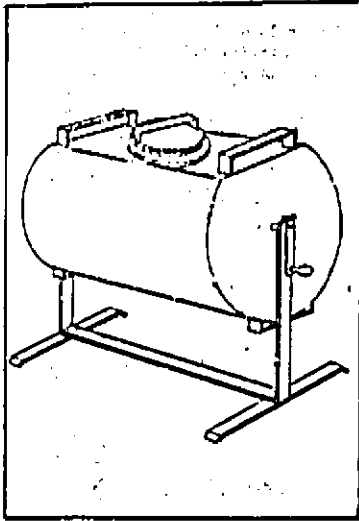

"I thought nothing more of the incident until I received a letter from Italy a few days ago saying that this youth, grown to manhood and a prosperous merchant, had been killed in the earthquake at Messina and had willed to me all his property, amounting to some $15,000. The letter was signed by Sotero Todoliska, his uncle. It is quite bewildering to be regarded that way after the lapse of years, and I hardly knew what to think of it.

"However, I have turned the matter over to my attorney, and when the official papers arrive—I am informed they are on the way—I shall have the matter looked into and my title made binding. It would be delightful to own an estate in Sicily—but it seems almost too good to be true."

TO WASH VEGETABLES

Placed in a Cylinder and Cleaned as Latter Revolves.

How often people are heard to say that they do not eat this or that in hotels and restaurants because they do not know if it has been cleaned properly. In the old days, when the process of properly cleaning anything was a more or less haphazard proceeding, this objection was a fair one, but now it has less ground for existence. With the advent of the numerous time and labor-saving devices, the food is just as clean in first-class restaurants and hotels as it is at home, and one of the inventions that have brought about this improvement is the vegetable device by a New Hampshire man. In appearance the vegetable washer looks very much like the paper stainer seen on store counters. It comprises a stand on which a hollow cylinder rests upon a base. The cylinder has an opening on one side and a screw top for the opening. The whole is water-tight. The vegetables are placed in the receptacle, which is filled with water, the top screwed on and the cylinder revolved by means of a handle.

The Rev. H. Gibson adopted a novel plan for furnishing the new Altemeier (Shelby) Church Men's Social club. He commissioned a large furniture van, and, seated on the box, he made a tour of the parish. By the end of the day he had secured sufficient articles to furnish the club.—London Tit-Bits.

AFFECTED HIM DIFFERENTLY.
Earlie—What's papa doing down in the cellar? Patching up the leakbox?
If a Ma—No, dear. He's putting new wire gauze on the screen door.
Earlie—How do you know?
Ma—By the language he is using, dear.

GOOD ADVICE.
"You should learn to go at things in the right way, my son."
"All right, father."
"Don't forget that there are other ways of removing a corn than by amputating your foot."

His Photographic Plates Spoiled.
A new York photographer recently learned, to his sorrow, that the gas mantle emits a ray. He had stored away a large number of plates in a dark place and inadvertently left a gas mantle near the plates. They remained in the place for a month, and when the photographer took his plates out he found all of them fogged. The mantle contained thorium, a radioactive substance that penetrates a cardboard plate box as easily as it goes through glass. The man didn't know this, but now he knows better than to leave gas mantles near his plates.

Improvements on Old Sayings.
"Never do things by halves," unless you open oysters. Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well. Let your motto be "Excellence!" Single out some specialty for which you have genius, then devote yourself to it thoroughly, and you won't have to look for a job. The job will be looking for you. The most brilliant men are often lamentable failures. Be thorough! Stick like the postage stamp—till you get there. Dogged does it.

Best Sugar Industry Expanding.
The beet sugar industry is growing in California. Eleven factories consume 9,700 tons of beets in a year. Alkaline soil seems peculiarly adapted to their growth, as it has been found that the salts and solids in the ground are collected in the tops and after a few crops the soil is so enriched as to grow anything. This beet grows to a great size, some specimens weighing as much as 50 pounds. One factory expects to produce 20,000,000 pounds of sugar this year. The tops wheeled off close to the ground are fed to cattle with profit. The by-product from the molasses is alcohol.

Deserved Chastisement.
A young wife sat down and cried the other evening because her husband was kept downtown late and would have to come home in the dark. An elderly woman who was present and who had a husband and three sons at the front in the civil war, and didn't hear from them for months at a time, wiped up the floor to have a fit when the young wife cried, but changed her mind and slapped the young wife in the face.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Our other makes have as many equally good points as those mentioned but lack of space prevents us from further description. But remember you will do well to look through the Big Store's corset department before purchasing elsewhere.

The Great Sale of Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums and Curtains

Continues All Through May

Notwithstanding the fact that we have sold more floor covering and curtains so far during the sale than ever before in the same length of time, hundreds are just finding out that we are having a sale. Trade is coming to us from points 100 to 150 miles from Janesville, to say nothing of the frequent shipments we are making to places in remote parts of the country. Such a stock of merchandise commands attention and such prices as we are making are bound to make business. If you have a want in Rugs, Carpets, Linoleum or Curtains, the one best place to buy it is THE BIG STORE. Come where assortments are largest.

In the midst of all the heated disputes over the tariff question the nation's representatives at Washington find some time for recreation and many of them have been among the most regular attendants at the baseball games. It is estimated that every day about 150 congressmen, many cabinet officers and about thirty senators attend the baseball game when the Washington team is playing at home.

AN INTERESTING ARCHITECTURAL STUDY.

Close view of a corner of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, which is to open at Seattle this summer. The buildings at the Seattle show are closely modeled after the style of art apparent at the World's Columbian exposition in Chicago in 1893. No more beautiful type is apparent than in the work on the building devoted to metallurgy.

STATUE TO LONGFELLOW TO BE UNVEILED MAY 7

Poet's Great Work Is to Be Marked by Shaft in Washington.

Washington, May 2.—President Taft, members of the diplomatic corps, senators, representatives, jurists and many other prominent men will attend the dedication of a monument to the memory of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in this city Friday.

The statue itself is an artistic addition to the tributes to Americans who have won renown in the higher arena of individual effort which adorn the national capital. It is the first statue erected here to mark distinguished services rendered to our national literature.

The statue, which is located in a small triangular parking at the intersection of Connecticut avenue and U street, is of heroic size, of pure white Persian marble, and the pedestal, in striking contrast, is of reddish brown marble, imported from Scottish quarries. William Couper of New York is the sculptor.

Chief Justice Fuller of the supreme court of the United States will preside at the unveiling exercises, and the invocation will be delivered by Rev. Charles Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant. Addresses will be delivered by Mr. Roy Alexander Mackay-Smith, conductor bishop of Pennsylvania, on "The History of the Statue," by Maj. Gen. A. W. Greely on "Longfellow the Man," by Prof. Elias Perry of Harvard university, on "Longfellow the Citizen," and by Hamilton W. Mabie on "Longfellow the Poet."

The statue will be presented to the city by Bradford H. Warner, treasurer of the Longfellow National Memorial association, through the efforts of which organization the monument was made a reality, and will be accepted by President Taft. A relative of the poet will pull the silken cord unveiling the statue.

INHALES FLAMES; FALLS DEAD.

Peoria Theater Manager Killed in Attempt to Stop Panic.

Peoria, Ill., May 2.—Three hundred panic-stricken people rushed beneath an arch of flame in an exit from the Crescent nickelodeon following an explosion in the lamp room which resulted in plunging the front entrance of the building into a mass of flames last night.

William W. Robinson, city editor of the Peoria Star and manager of the playhouse is dead. He dropped dead in an architect's office an hour later as the result of inhaling flames in his efforts to control the crowd following the alarm of fire.

Two women fainted after reaching the street and the moving-picture operator was severely burned. The blaze was extinguished with a loss of about $500.

FIVE FUGITIVES CAPTURED.

Indiana Officers Shoot Kentucky Jail Breaker—One Evades Arrest.

Evansville, Ind., May 2.—Five of eight prisoners that broke out of the jail at Owensboro, Ky., yesterday morning were recaptured last night at Newburg, Ind., by Marshal Crayson and a posse armed with rifles.

One of the prisoners, Hyrd Campbell, a negro, was brought down by a bullet in his arm. The men had crossed the Ohio river in a skiff and had taken an interurban car at Newburg bound for this city. Two of the fugitives were caught in Kentucky. Another, William Ellis, a negro sentenced for life imprisonment, is at large on the Indiana shore.

GIRL'S BURNS ARE FATAL.

Indiana Student Dies Though Friends Sacrificed Skin to Save Her.

Kokomo, Ind., May 2.—Nina Johnson, 23 years old, a student at the University of Wisconsin, who was burned severely six months ago while conducting a chemical experiment, died yesterday at her home here of uraemic poisoning.

Several of her fellow students had submitted to operations, to supply skin for grafting on Miss Johnson's wounds and she should have recovered but for the new complication. She was the daughter of James D. Johnson, president of the trust company section of the Indiana Bankers' association.

Sheridan Breaks Discus Record.
New York, May 2.—Martin J. Sheridan of the Irish-American Athletic club, made a new record yesterday throwing the Olympic discus, free style, from a seven-foot circle, 128 feet 3 inches at the Pastime Athletic club grounds. The previous record of 122 feet 1 inch was made during last year's national championships at Traverse Island by W. F. Horr.

Cabanne Boy Brought Home.
St. Louis, May 2.—James S. Cabanne III, seven years old, who was taken from the home of his grandmother here April 15, by Broughton Brandenburg, who said he acted for the boy's mother, received a warm welcome yesterday when he arrived from San Francisco in company with his father, James S. Cabanne.

Two Indiana Men Killed.
Cincinnati, O., May 2.—Charles Little, aged 21 and Albert Bennett, aged 26, both of Lawrenceburg, Ind., were run down and instantly killed yesterday near North Bend, O., by Baltimore & Ohio eastbound passenger train while they were searching for a runaway horse.

POEM BRINGS TWO LIBERTY.

Kansas Prison Doors Are to Open for Murderers.

Topeka, Kan., May 2.—Early this month there will walk out of the great door of the penitentiary at Lansing two free men. They are Carl Arnold and William Harvey, murderers. They were sent to the prison house for life, but their sentences were commuted by E. W. Hoch when he was governor, to 18 years in the penitentiary. Their crime was a cowardly one, they having killed the mayor of Kinsey, Kan., by shooting him in the back when he resisted their efforts to rob him. That was in 1923.

Those two men owe their approaching liberty to a poem said to have been written by Arnold. So far as was explained at the time commutation was granted, Arnold and his companion had not earned clemency for any of the usual reasons generally given for pardons but merely because Arnold's poem had demonstrated that he was a literary genius and that the world should have the benefit of such ability. Prison walls, it was argued, were not conducive to the broadening of a poetical mind and a man should have freedom in order to expand.

POSSES SEEK TOTS IN VAIN.

Relatives Fear Pennsylvania Boy and Girl Are Kidnaped or Dead.

Lafayette, Pa., May 2.—Posses of neighbors who have been searching for Emma and Alvin Blough, seven and five years old, who disappeared mysteriously Friday afternoon from the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Blough, have about given up hope of finding them.

The little ones were playing in the barnyard in full view of their own and neighboring homes, and disappeared within a minute after they had been seen at play. A circus exhibited here that day and the circus trains were searched, the woods were scoured for miles and a creek which flows near the Blough home was dragged.

The theories advanced as to their fate include kidnapping, drowning, being lost in the woods and falling into some of the numerous holes caused by cave-ins in abandoned coal mines.

Robert S. McCormick III.
Boston, May 2.—Robert S. McCormick, former ambassador of the United States to Russia, is reported to be ill at the Stedman private hospital in Brooklyn. Dr. H. R. Stedman, who conducts the institution, refused either to confirm or deny the report.

BLIZZARD IN WISCONSIN.

Superior, Wis., May 2.—The blizzard of the past two days ended and was succeeded by a steady and heavy snow fall Saturday. Winds have been abandoned for sleighs, as the main streets have from six inches to a foot of snow.

OFFICERS TO RIDE A MONTH.

Start from Washington to Gallop Over Famous Battlefields.

Washington, May 2.—The advance guard of the "on to Richmond" group of army officers left Fort Myer yesterday, horseback, Maj. Eben Smith, general staff, Maj. P. E. Straub, medical department, and Capt. Powell Clayton, Jr., Eleventh cavalry, led the line of troopers.

The column was accompanied by eight army wagons containing tents, supplies and baggage. The officers and men will live for the 30 days of the trip as they would in the field in time of war.

Gen. Witherspoon of the war college and the 45 student officers who will accompany him will join the cavalry party at Fredericksburg and the entire party will go over the battlefield there and then proceed along the route taken by Gen. Grant in the final campaign of the civil war. The ride is taken as instruction for the student officers and also to give all the officers an opportunity to take the 30-mile ride that was proscribed by Mr. Roosevelt.

It is understood that the return from Richmond to Washington also will be horseback.

HYDE SENTENCED TO JAIL.

Former Life Insurance Officer May Go to French Prison.

Paris, May 2.—James Hazen Hyde of New York, former vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and his chauffeur, Ladwice, have been condemned by default, Mr. Hyde to one month's imprisonment, and a fine of $100, and Ladwice to a month's imprisonment and a fine of $30. They were charged with running into a public taxicab last October and injuring a passenger. The complainants charged that after the accident Ladwice sped away.

Under a law passed last July flight after an accident is a special offense. At present Mr. Hyde is on an automobile trip in the Riviera.

Killed in Auto Crash.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—John Phelps was instantly killed and three companions in his automobile were injured when the machine crashed into a telegraph pole Saturday. The pole was shattered to splinters and the automobile wrecked. Phelps was the son of one of Kentucky's most famous lawyers.

TEDDY BEAR PUZZLE

String Can Be Taken Out, Though It Looks Impossible.

Tens of us having failed to dim the popularity of the "Teddy bear" puzzle, a new one has been devised which will give the average person plenty of exercise for his or her wits. Of course, like any other puzzle, once solved it is quite easy. The puzzle consists of a "Teddy bear" in a sitting posture, with its forelegs outstretched. There is a hole in its nose and in each forepaw, and through these a double cord is passed. The ends of the cord pass through the paws and on each end are metal rings, much too large to pass through the holes. By making the proper use of the loops in the cord, however, the latter may be removed from the bear and replaced with ease. The basic principle of the puzzle, that of making the secret in the proper manipulation of the loops, is not strictly new, but the adaptation of this principle to the "Teddy bear" will ensure its popularity as a puzzle.

Art in Market Place.

Every one who is at all interested in the cause of the arts of design in America realizes that little progress will be made in a wholesome direction until design has been applied artistically and sanely to the ordinary commercial usages. One of the happiest illustrations of the application of a really artistic design to the commonest features of architectural practice nowadays is to be observed in the completed portion of the new Grand Central station at New York. Here the architects have worked out in wrought iron two simple designs in angles and curves that without being either finicky or tending toward structural weakness add materially to the artistic appearance of the whole facade. This is probably the first instance in the architecture of New York when the ordinarily clumsy steel work on the facade of a building has been fashioned into an artistic design.

Gives Powerful Light.

The electric arc from the incandescence of carbon electrodes converts into light only about one per cent. of the energy, and the so-called "flaming arc" is an attempt to gain efficiency by adding to the carbon substances that produce a luminous flame. Reporting the latest results, Prof. A. Blondel, the French electrician, states that salts of the calcium group have proved suitable materials. The pure chemicals may be used for electrodes or employed in a homogeneous mixture with carbon, but electrodes of carbon with a core of the chemicals give powerful light.

Will Develop Coal Lands.

About 8,000 acres of coal lands in Monterey county, California, about 200 miles from San Francisco, are about to be developed in an extensive manner. Most of the coal of this section is lignitic in character, but this tract is said to contain a vein of semi-bituminous fuel.

Beetle Hunting in Queensland.

A reward of 1s. 3d. a pound was recently offered by the Queensland sugar planters, writes a Brisbane (Australia) correspondent, for beetles of the destructive sugar cane grub. Hundreds of men and boys have now taken up beetle hunting as a profession. One man earns £2 a week throughout the "beetle season," and the boys make from £2 a week.

A Christmas Card Got.

The Royal Waterloo Hospital for Children and Women, Waterloo road, London, E. 15, wishes to acknowledge the kindness with which an appeal to the public last year for old Christmas cards was met. This resulted in 20,000 being sold for £21, 10s., and a not thereby being founded. The authors of the scheme feel confident that the public will keep the cot endowed in perpetuity. They are therefore asked to send their old cards annually for the hospital so that during the summer months they may be not ready for selling next Christmas. The buyers of these cards are mainly poor people who sell them again at a profit, but the cards are offered to the trade at one farthing each, so that the charity may be said to work automatically.—Queen.

both works on a siphon, so that the spray can be made to flow in any direction to reach any portion of the body, producing a healthful and invigorating effect. When it is desired to use the shower it is swung downward and the water turned on. The spray can then be regulated, as desired. After use it is swung back into a vertical position, where it is out of the way. It is also convenient for rinsing the hair after a shampoo.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—It isn't often that one runs across a pugilist who has none of the small vices so common to men in this age, but in English Jack O'Brien, champion light weight of Canada, who is doing light training in this city, the fight fan runs up against a pugilist who believes in clean living and practices it strictly.

O'Brien has victories over some of the best men in the country, and won the lightweight championship of Canada by knocking out Tommy Lambie. Having beaten the best of the States, O'Brien jumped to the States to look over a few of the world-beating champions on this side of the line. He is at present looking for a match, and keeping in condition by doing light gymnasium work and taking runs in the country around Ann Arbor. Detroit sports, who saw him dispose of "Kid" Parker in Toledo recently, are trying to arrange a fight for him with that old reliable ring veteran, Jack Hamilton of Troy, N. Y. In the meantime O'Brien stands ready to meet anybody at 125 pounds, and is particularly anxious to get a chance at Nelson. He has a wicked left and in all of his battles has delivered the sleep producing pill with it. If there is a man living who can get that Nelson's got O'Brien looks like the fellow.

Educate Your Clerks to Help Advertise Your Store

Newspaper advertising will not do it all. It will call the attention of people to your store and what you have in it, but after they get there, it's up to you and your clerks to sell the goods and "cash in" on the advertising. Instruct your clerks to read your ads and keep in touch with what you are advertising. Then when a customer calls for something in one department, be sure the clerk calls her attention to a special sale or bargain in some other department. This method of suggestion is what people look for and want. A woman who comes to your store and buys some ribbon, who is told by the clerk that the store is making some special prices on laces, will in many cases go to the lace counter to see what is offered there. This sort of "suggestion" is but one of many ways of assisting your advertising and making it more profitable.

GAMBLING GIVEN SEVERE SCORING

REV. J. W. LAUGHLIN PREACHED ON THIS SIN LAST EVENING.

IT SHOULD BE PREVENTED

Tells of Evil Attendant To Men Who Risk Money Upon the Goddess Of Chance.

"While we are engaged in a crusade against the saloon, we should take care that our reform strikes the gambling places as well, for gambling destroys equally with the saloon. But we should not think that if we rid ourselves of the saloon that the gambling will go as well for although many think that gambling goes on only in or in connection with the saloons, they are wrong. Games of chance are being played in every part of the city, in saloons, billiard halls, and private homes. Whether it is poker, or seven up, bridge, whist or stock buying, it should be stamped out, and we should be willing to start a reform against it."

The above words expressed the warning which the Rev. J. W. Laughlin expressed in his sermon last night at the Presbyterian Church on "The pernicious influence of gambling shown by the recent attempt to corner the wheat market." His text was taken from the thirty-fourth verse of the twenty-third chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, "And they parted his raiment and cast lots."

The minister started his discourse with the explanation that he had to confess his ignorance in regard to the exact methods used by the wheat king, James Patten, in his attempt to corner the wheat supply of the United States but stated that exact knowledge was not necessary if the general means and efforts were studied.

"You all have read more or less about the present corner in wheat. How one man, or a group of men have so manipulated the available supply of wheat that it has resulted in great profits to themselves and suffering to thousands of consumers. This manipulation has had the result of raising the price of wheat in April to over $5.00 above its real value, and incidentally raised the price of flour, cut down the size of the loaf and caused many small bakers to go out of business."

Laughlin says that it was not himself or his crowd who have caused the corner, but the natural scarcity of wheat. But to refute his statement we only have to know that there were produced in the United States last year, 304,000,000 bushels of wheat, and that this amount has not varied materially during the last five years.

The transaction is gambling and as such should be discontinued by everyone. Many men have endeavored to corner the world's supply of some necessary commodity, but they have invariably failed. Among them are to be seen the names of Joseph Patten and Phillips, the corn king.

"They failed and it is to be hoped that the present wheat king will also fail for his profits are tainted money. How much he has made, or his crowd made, nobody knows. But if his corner stands, and from present appearances it looks as if it will hold longer than the former attempts, he stands to win a great deal of money."

"How does all this come about?" is the question that may be asked. Why do men try to corner the supply of some necessary commodity, and cause suffering to thousands in the process? The answer is simple. It comes from the desire to get rich quick, which is common throughout the United States.

The desire to take a chance, to risk a little to gain much, can be seen everywhere, in hotels, saloons, billiard halls, and even in private homes. Wherever there is a gambling device or a game of cards for stakes, it is so common that it should bring forth the united protest of press and pulpit. Everywhere there is the opportunity to take a chance. To take something without giving an equivalent in return.

To make money by betting on a horse race, or the Board of Trade, or on a game of cards. The winner receives money that does not legitimately belong to him, for which he has not worked. It may be his friend's money, or if he loses, it is his own.

He has no more right to take his own money and pay his losses than he has to pour it on the ground. What he has earned is his personality, his power, and he has no right to risk that, no more right than he has to take another man's. It is a disgrace. The money he gains is tainted, and can not be used to buy his home or pay his children's school.

Where shall a man use the money he has gained at gambling? "Upon nothing is the effect of gambling more pronounced than upon industry. The ability to work is the best gift of heaven to humanity. Work is the foundation of our civilization and the man who does not work is disgraced. The good worker is honored."

Now take for example, the man who has worked and saved a little. He is enticed into a game of chance and with a beginner's luck wins a little. He wins again and finds that he has made more than he has lost in a month. He begins to think that he is a great gambler, and that if necessary, that he can make good money that way.

He becomes careless about his work and when his boss says something about his work that he does not like, he quits. But he finds now that the passion for gambling has taken hold of him, that his luck is gone, and that he loses and loses, without the power to give up his fascinating game. He is ruined for his trade.

He is no longer a good railroad man, or doctor or lawyer or a merchant. He is ruined for the business of life. He is not disposed to care for the common duties of life.

win. Perhaps he wins again. It would be best if he lost at first for then he might have been taught a lesson.

But if he happens to win a little, he wants more, until he thinks he has become a great stock broker and then the crash comes. He gets the habit, and as soon as that happens he becomes unfit to be employed in a position of trust.

"Gambling always weakens the moral character. Take for instance, the text: 'And they parted his raiment and cast lots.' Can anyone imagine anything more degrading? The scene of the Roman soldiers casting lots for the Christ's robe shocks every moral character."

Now take the story related by the great Sir Horace Walpole of the gambler who fell from the table, struck by apoplexy and the hardened gamblers stood about making bets on the length of time he would live, even refusing to let a doctor bleed him, claiming that it would change the conditions of the bet.

Or in modern times, the gamblers who wagered on the length of time that the martyred president Garfield lived to live, trying to win on the event that a whole nation awaited with sorrow.

These three instances taken, one from ancient times, another from England and the third from the United States in modern times, show how deep a man will go if he becomes a gambler.

It is a cheat from the beginning, promising much and in the end paying little. It is associated with evil things. Nor do the evil associates accompany it in the saloon alone.

If gambling is carried on in the home the evil associated follow it there. The bottle is necessary as the deck of cards or the bookmaker.

After denouncing the gambling evil in general terms, Rev. Laughlin went on to give specific instances of the evil and misfortune of those who follow a man if he gives himself up to gambling. The miner who came to the "Elbow" from the mountains with $25,000 and after winning and losing all night was robbed by the cry of "Foul, Foul."

"And so I cry 'Foul, Foul' to you tonight. Wherever a man tries to gain something by risking a little, taking another's without giving an equivalent, there to should be heard the cry of 'Foul, Foul.'"

"Now does the sorrow that follows the gambler's course affect him alone? Many times, it is not he that suffers most. Take for example, the young man who left the old home in New Hampshire for New Orleans with the fortune given him by his father, a retired merchant. He fell into the hands of gamblers who despoiled him. And when the letter reached his aged father, telling him of his son's disgrace and suicide, can you hear the cry wrung from his lips by a breaking heart? He might just as well have been dead for all that made life worth living had been taken from him."

"Of a surety, gambling destroys men. The gambler is of no service to the world. The cat pays for his itching by destroying the vermin about the house of his owner, the street sweeper by keeping the streets clean; the dog by frightening away robbers; but the gambler does nothing. He pays nothing but disgrace, poverty and ruin."

"If it is easy to get the habit of gambling, trying to get something for nothing, it is also hard to break from it. But it can and should be done, for gambling destroys equally with the saloon. In fact, it is worse than the saloon."

A prominent merchant told me that it was worse for him to have a clerk who went into a saloon he could not see, and any bad habits he might contract could be guarded against, but if he went to a gambling den, no one would be the wiser until some unlawful deed to which his losses spurred him would bring his bad habit to light.

The man who gambles is a bad customer. He will pay for his suit of clothes when the time for his installment comes, if he has not lost his money in a card game.

"A reform should be started against gambling even as the saloon crusade has been started. It makes no difference whether it is poker, seven-up, kelly's pool, rubber sol-machine, stock gambling, or the fashionable vice, bridge whist. It is all gambling and as such, is wrong, sinful and weakens the man who does it. It is a menace to civilization and as such should be stamped out."

AUNTIES.
They Belong to the Whole Neighborhood.
That dear old neighbor we know as "Auntie" and who lived down the street was no relation of course, except that her tender old heart made her "Auntie" to all the young people. And how she did love the young mothers.

One who remembers her says: "We could always depend on 'Auntie' for good sound advice. She was particularly well informed on food and what to use for certain troubles. 'After having taught in the public schools for years my health became bad and I suffered frequently from indigestion. After my husband's death I had indigestion so badly it became a torment. 'Owing to my condition my little baby did not get proper nourishment and was a very delicate child. I had about decided to put her on artificial food altogether when the advice of dear old 'Auntie' put baby and I on the right road. 'She insisted upon my trying Grape-Nuts food, declaring that it would help me and give baby more nourishment, so to please her I did, trying it for breakfast. The result was so marked and so quick that I ate it for luncheon too and I must say the change has been wonderful. I have good health now and baby is a strong active child. 'My mother says that Grape-Nuts helps her more and keeps her more cheerful and happy than anything else she has ever done. Truly pure, scientific food has great power.' 'There's a Reason.' Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in places. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

JANESVILLE HAS FELT THE CHANGE

TAKING OVER OF ST. PAUL BUSINESS BY WELLS FARGO CO.

Company Will Now Operate Over 71,000 Miles of Railway Lines.

With the transfer at midnight, Friday, of the express business of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road and its allied branches, from the United States Express company to the Wells Fargo company, Janesville is directly affected. The wagons of the new company are on the streets as are those of the United States and the American Express company. It will mean a bitter rivalry between the three.

The full significance of the deal by which the Wells Fargo Express company takes over the express business of the St. Paul railroad and its affiliated lines is not fully appreciated by most people. The fact of the matter is that Edward H. Harriman and the Southern Pacific company own the controlling interest in the Wells Fargo Express company, and it is believed that he is applying the same methods to the development of the express business that he has adopted with such success in the expansion of his railroad, and the effect of it is now being felt, not only in Chicago, where the company has appropriated $1,000,000 for the extension of its facilities for handling the increased business which is now coming to it, but also by the United States Express company, which is controlled by former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt. It is believed that the "Sticker," as it is called, feels the change much more keenly than any of the others, because as it has now, caused to operate over the St. Paul system, which embraces the extensive business naturally accruing to a successful railroad system extending over 9,000 miles and penetrating a prosperous region.

Greatest Change in 25 Years.
The activity of the Wells Fargo company in this direction has brought about the greatest change in the express business that has taken place in this country in over a quarter of a century.

In an advertisement the Wells Fargo company over the Erie railroad, in which Mr. Harriman is an influential factor, the statement is made in a folder published in February that the operations of the company extend over 55,000 miles of rail and water lines. The acquisition of new lines since that time has been upon such a stupendous scale that G. B. Simpson, general superintendent of the company, who has charge in connection with E. A. Steinhilber of New York, vice president and general manager of the company, of the business of the Atlantic division, which covers the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, the company would now operate, beginning Saturday, May 1, over 71,000 miles.

Lines Included in Deal.
The St. Paul system not only includes the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, but also takes in the affiliated lines, including the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound and the Montana railroads, all of which were taken over, embracing in all 9,000 miles.

Other acquisitions today include the Copper Range railroad from Mass. Mich., to Calumet, Mich.; the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad; the Mineral Point & Northern railroad; the Keweenaw Central railroad, the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend Electric line, the Tama & Toledo Electric line in Iowa, the Kansas, Fort Scott & Memphis, the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham, and the Kansas City, Clinton & Springfield railroads.

Erecting Big Office Building.
Extensive and expensive preparations are being made in Chicago to handle the business of the company. Some time ago the company bought 250 1/2 by 100 feet of land on the east side of Fifth avenue, 100 feet south of Park street, for $50,000, on the north 100 feet of which it is about to begin the construction of a ten-story fireproof office building in which the offices of the company in Chicago will be located; and on the south 150 1/2 feet a three-story outbuilding station will be erected, the whole representing an investment of from $750,000 to $1,000,000.

The company has also rented the depot station of the St. Paul, in Chicago, from Thos. C. Platt, which the St. Paul Express company has always used, for a term of ten years at an annual rental of $7,500. The property includes a plot of ground on West Water street, on which it has a frontage of 153 feet, the south line being 41 feet and the north 51 feet, on which the United States Express company erected a three-story building, the property representing an investment of over $100,000, which would otherwise have been useless to the "States." The thousands of employees of the United States Express company will also move over to the Wells Fargo company, there being few changes of any significance in this part of the service.

This movement has a deeper significance than that of merely taking over the express business of all these companies. It is believed that it insures for years to come pleasant relations between Mr. Harriman's lines and the St. Paul, and this is an important matter, as the extension of the St. Paul to the coast through a section that has been heretofore controlled by the Pacific, will cut a big figure in the express freight business of this country.

START RAISING THE BIG DREDGING FUND
Madison Interested in Project to Deepen the Yahara From Madison to Lake Waubesa.

That the Madison pleasure boat owners are deeply interested in the project of making the Yahara, or Catfish river, a navigable stream with a channel four feet deep, is evidenced by the raising of a fund in Madison to start work between Lakes Monona and Waubesa. The last congress made an appropriation for a survey of the stream from Janesville to Madison but the Madison boat owners are not satisfied to wait for Uncle Sam to get busy and have gone ahead and raised a fund to begin work of dredging the Yahara from Lake Monona to Lake Waubesa. Thus far $1,050 has been raised of the $3,000 thought necessary to complete this work and a four-foot channel is to be built. The canal will follow the river and be without locks and will not disturb the level of the lakes.

The next move will be to start work between Lakes Waubesa and Kegonsa, where many Janesville people have summer homes, and then will come the work from Lake Kegonsa to Janesville. It is expected that the work of dredging the entire distance will be very large, but if the beginning comes the Madison boat owners feel certain the government will aid the laborers. The Janesville boat club have a fairly good channel from Janesville to the mouth of the Catfish, near Indian Ford, and it would not take a large sum to make this a good course.

ECZEMA

DON'T CLOSE THE PORES OF THE SKIN AND DRIVE IT IN.

Persons afflicted with Eczema, Scrofula, Psoriasis, Ulcers, Pimples, etc., frequently have recourse to strong astringent external remedies to dry up and close the pores of the skin in order to get temporary relief, forgetting, in their anxiety, that by so doing they are forcing the poisonous germs back into the blood to reassert itself, a month later, in the old disease area, or on some other part of the body, in a more malignant form. How much better to help the blood throw off the impurities which cause these diseases, and get permanent relief. Blood is the most important constituent of the human body, and when impure is the underlying cause of most of our ailments, particularly skin diseases. Dr. Taylor's treatment aims to purify the blood as well as treat the skin. Guaranteed to cure. of the "Old Home House." They was all laughing, and thinking the whole thing a big joke.

"Mr. Hartley," says the doctor, "I wish you were to be a permanent resident. There are a few more more cases of this kind I'd like to have you tackle."

We walked on together the rest of the way, laughing and talking. Nobody took the business serious at all. "They all thought Washy would go to work when he found 'twas either that or get out and hustle for a place to put his head in."

We marched into the Sparrow yard like a Fourth of July parade. Hartley knocked at the kitchen door. Editha opened it.

"Is your father in?" asked the twin. "Yes, sir," says Editha. "He's in. I suppose you'd like to see him, wouldn't you? Pa, here's Mr. Hartley."

There was a groan from the dining room. Then some coughs, like a string of small earthquakes. Finally a dreadful weak voice orders us to step right in. The rest of the crowd went on ahead. I stopped for a jiffy to speak to Editha.

"Where's the rest of the children?" I ask. "I sent 'em over to the grocery store on an errand," she says. "I thought you'd be along pretty soon. They took the baby with 'em."

"Iowa's war had been since he heard the news?" says I. "Oh, he was going on a terrible last night. Had nerve spells and fired the chairs around and carried on so we was all scared. But he went out about nine o'clock with a letter he'd wrote, and this morning he seems better. Say, Mr. Pratt," she whispers, eager, "is it true that me and Dawsey are going to live with the minister's folks?"

"Maybe so," says I. "Why?" "Oh! I hope so," she says. "Then I could go to school, and I wouldn't be 'round to jaw us, and I'd have a little rest. She does need it so."

Think of a 12-year-old young one talking like that. But the children was all grown-ups in that family. I went into the dining room. The delegation was gathered on one side of the table, and Washy was crumpled up in his rocker on the other. He looked some scared.

"Well, Mr. Sparrow," Hartley was beginning when I come in, "have you made up your mind about the position which this gentleman has been kind enough to offer you?" He pointed to Brown as he said it.

"I say," asks the invalid, feeble. "Martin said it all over again; he had to stop in the middle so's to give the candidate for the job a chance to cough and turn loose a few groans."

And all that Washy said when the twin had finished was another "I say?" Hartley began to lose patience. "You heard what I said," he snaps, sharp. "I have you made up your mind?"

"Don't get mad, Mr. Hartley," pleads the sufferer, and earnest. "Please don't. My nerves is dreadful weak this morning and I ain't able to do it. I've had coughing spells ever since I got out of bed. Well, I won't have to linger here much longer. Pretty soon I'll be laid away, and—"

"I have you made up your mind?" interrupts Martin. "Answer quick. The time of these gentlemen is valuable."
